the certificate in the local letter box. Unfortunately, the certificate did not arrive at its destination, and these events were replicated on at least four occasions.

It can be confirmed that Mr Cordell has not been employed since being supported by this service, and presently, he has been hospitalised at North Middlesex Hospital for the last three weeks, receiving treatment for an as yet undiagnosed stomach ailment.

I am enclosing some supporting documentation and if you require any other information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely
