

Just got home from the court it has been adjourned for 28 days so things can be done one of them is the assessment of my son.

I am going away today and will be back on the 30th June, so I hope that the council does not arrange a date for this week for the assessment to take place.

Lorraine