

attempt to vary bail but at this stage I do not believe that the Court will entertain it.

---

From: JOSEPHINE WARD

Date: Sun, Aug 11, 2013 at 4:38 PM

Subject: Regina v Simon Cordell - further application to vary bail and suspend curfew on 25th and 26th August 2013

To: wired\_@ymail.com

Lorraine Cordell

michael@michaelcarrollandco.com

Dear Simon / Lorraine Simon it is my understanding that your mother is having internet difficulties at present.

I sent over a number of emails this weekend which I will try to forward over to you from my trash box.

Re: application to remove reporting condition.

I confirm that I have lodged this application already. Re: application to suspend curfew for 25th and 26th August 2013.

Simon I have requested written confirmation from Omar Lawrence that you have been awarded the contract together with the particulars of the contract as the Court will undoubtedly ask for this information.

There is also a risk that the Court / Police will check that the contract is genuine and this may well entail telephoning Omar Lawrence to check the detail. It is not unusual for the court to check bail addresses by analogy so I am merely putting you on notice of this fact.

I will not have any control over the information that is provided by the police to Mr Omar Lawrence but they will have to identify themselves as police officers and this may raise questions about why police are making these enquiries.

Your mother has explained that you may lose the contract as a result of this and unfortunately I do not have any control over this.

The options therefore available to you are as follows:

- (1) Attend the festival during the curfew hours and then go home
- (2) Apply to the court to vary the electronic curfew and request that the court do not disclose details of your criminal history or current court case. However Mr Lawrence may well wonder why an enquiry has been made