

the police officer was being deceitful with his evidence and asked him to give me a chance to prove the truth by requesting a copy of the sound audio recording from the insurance company from when the police officer had first pulled me over.

The Judge granted my request and I applied to the insurance company for the sound recording evidence to get realised to me.

On receiving my request of the recordings I could prove that I was right as I now had both recording from the roadside and car compound.

I applied for an appeal hearing to take place at the court house.

Very soon after this day arrived and I was on my way to court I felt a bit of a mess due to what had been going on to me by every person that did get involved in hurting me.

In the court room the appeal started to go ahead, I can remember the day being a repeat of the trial to where I had wrongfully got found guilty in the first instance, till right up until my solicitor asked the police officer to stop going over his evidence from his police note book.

When the police officer did do as he had got asked to do by my barrister on the day made sure to confirm with him that his notes were correct from the day's event's and looked at a CD player that he had earlier put a copy of the audio recording made by me with PC Geoghegan, talking to them.

On playing the audio CD for a few seconds, my solicitor then stopped the CD and asked PC Geoghegan; if this was his voice; for him to confirm the answer: PC Geoghegan, agreed while under oath that it was his voice on the CD and this was to his surprise.

There is a copy of the official sound audio transcribed from them day's. Hang on first just to confirm one more thing even stronger than before I did not have any other tools of trade in my van on the day of events.
